DETAILED ACTION

This is the first action on the merits. Claims 1-19 are pending.

Priority

1. The Rule 120 data in the specification must be updated to reference the Patent number.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The IDS, filed , 3/12/04 has been considered in full.

Drawings

3. The drawings, as originally filed, are acceptable as formal.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-19 rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of U.S. Patent No. 6,931,960.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the pending claims are commensurate in scope.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 7-11, 13 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Devenyi (2004/0237687 A1).

Devenyi shows the claimed invention where two nut members (50, 52) are mounted on bearings (58); the bearing and nut assembly is inclined relative to the screw and biased by a spring (78), the spring biases the nuts into engagement with the screw shaft (22).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3682

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 2, 12, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Devenyi (2004/0237687 A1) in view of Parsons (4794810).

Devenyi shows the claimed invention except for the specific angles and the use of a synchronous motor.

Parsons shows a leadscrew assembly where the inclination of the nuts is very small and within the range specified by Applicant.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the screw and nut assembly of Devenyi such that the nuts were inclined between the angles of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $1 \frac{1}{2}$ in view of the teaching of Parsons for the purpose of providing the most engagement force of the nuts against the screw thus essentially removing backlash.

With regard to the specific use of a synchronous motor, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select any known motor for a particular application since the use of known devices for a known use has not, in itself, been held patentable.
